DYING FOR THE WIDOW.

Newark Man Shoots Himself Be cause of Unrequited Love. DEPENDENT TO THE EXEMPTION WORK IN T.

NEWARK, July 7. -Thodore Fischer, of 65 Magazine street, is lying at St. Michael's Hospital in a dying condition. Fischer had been paying court to Mrs. Jecob Schell, a widow, who keeps a saloon Jacob Schell, a widow, who keeps a saloon in Hamburg place. He had nursed the widows late husband for two years, and after the latter's death mistook the gratifule of Mrs. Schell for evidence of love. Yesterday he proposed and was rejected. Disgusted, he left with the expressed intention of shooting himself. In the evening, however, he again visited the widow and proposed for a second time, when his importunities grew so burdensome that she was forced to call the police.

I pon his promise that he would not again amoy her Mrs. Schell withdrew her complaints.

At 8.30 the people in the house where he isved were startled by a pistol shot, and upon gaining an entrance into Fischer's rount they found him prostrate upon the bed with a build twomain in his temple.

Up to noon to-day he had not recovered consciousness. He will surely die.

Dynamite Sent Through the Mails to a Jersey Assessor.

IMPRICIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I PLAINFIELD, N. J., July 7.—John M. C. Marsh, Assessor for Westfield, a prominent and influential citizen. Saturday evening eceived through the mail an infernal achine. The unsterious package was postmarked ow York, had out it one of the old issue 10-

New 1978, had on it one of the old issue 10-cent postage stamps and was addressed to "J. M. C. Marsh, Westfield, N. J." The package was neatly wrapped in heavy grown paper. In it was a box its ice the size of and resembing a domino box, with a slidg cover. On the under side of the cover there was strip of sandpaper which just touched the parior-matches held upright by a netting of work, and atound each match was a which led to a dynamite cartridge fully nve inches long.

It was doubtless meant for Mr. Marsh to slide the cover off thus ignifing the parlor metches, setting fire to the fuse, and exploding the dynamite.

The infernal machine was examined by by, layard, and then scaled in water and the fuses cut. The post-office officials had been notified.
